Wind, Wing and Wave
I come from a place called Moloka'i
Pele gave birth to the body from the ocean
Passing birds gave
Sprouting forests and fruit

Makani, Manu, Kai
No keia 'aina no Moloka'i au
Hanau 'o Pele ke kino mai ke kai
Na ka manu i ha'awi mai
Ua kupu, ua hua, ua ulu mai

Wind wing and wave, we all got here the same way
Guided to this place
Hula and lei, aloha from the heart
Honihoni from our Moloka'i

Kanikani i ka 'aekai kahiko
Pae na kupuna i keia 'one
Ma ka wa'a mai Kahiki mai
Ulu maila ka 'ohana no Hawai'i nei

Rhythms of the ancient tides
Brought our ancestors to these sands
In canoes from Tahiti
Hawaii's family grows

Ku mai na pali nona ke ki'eki'e
Kia'i mau ana ia Kalaupapa
Kani le'a ka manu i kona leo
Kahi o na loko i'a lei Molokai

The sea cliffs stand tall
Guarding and protecting Kalaupapa
The bird's voice sings joyously
Near the fishponds that encircle Molokai like a lei

Holunape na lau o ka niu
Me na kohola e hi'ipoi ana
'Au mai na honu i ka pa ko nane
E malama mau i ka hano hano

The wind rustles the leaves of the coconut
Humpback whales cherish their young
Honu swims beneath the shining moon
We will work to keep this majesty!

Composed by Molokai PRISM students, Joyce Rouse, and Kumu Manuwai Peters